Dear Suzy,

I write this in full support for Dansmakers to keep existing as one of the main spaces in Amsterdam for the exploration, production and exposure of dance and performance. For many of us has been an incredible opportunity to have Dansmakers as a place to coexist with other makers, share work with a committed audience and keep in open dialogue with all the diverse and vibrant artistic voices that are gathered in the city. Dansmakers has host us with warmth and close support as well as helping us further inter-connections with other support platforms and institutions. We can only make the cultural system exist when culture is being listened to.

With love,

Andrea Folache
